ATR VERDICT: INCLYNE comes from a family that trainer Andrew Balding knows well and she looked to enjoy a first try at this sort of distance when second at Ascot 10 days ago. The three-year-old is fancied to take a step forward off this favourable mark and can shed the maiden tag in her second handicap attempt. Lady Lizzy has finished second in all four of her starts so far and looks set to be the bridesmaid again, while Thanks Be and Cuban Sun are also taken seriously.

ATR VERDICT: True Destiny has looked progressive on artificial surfaces but arrives with a point to prove back on grass, while Master Grey is forced up in class under a 5lb penalty for winning at Chepstow seven days ago. Preference, instead is for Warren Greatrex's BAILARICO, who deserves respect as one of two course winners in the field. A first-time visor is expected to sharpen him up, and the six-year-old has more to offer on the Flat if the ground remains lively.

ATR VERDICT: SOCRU showed a determined attitude to strike at Doncaster on his reappearance last month and the three-year-old can defy a 6lb rise to score once more for Mick Easterby. The selection seems at home on a sound surface, and could be too strong for Staycation, who has looked unfortunate to find one too good the last twice, and Aghast, who could be worth following after shedding her maiden tag at Thirsk 22 days ago.

ATR VERDICT: HONOR OAK only ran at Leopardstown four days ago, but she impressed when finishing fourth and must have come out of that contest in good order to be running again so soon. The seven-year-old is likely to be ridden handily once more and this event looks less competitive. Caesar's Comet narrowly failed to land a gamble at Musselburgh 19 days ago, while Iseebreeze has been in good form on the all-weather and would be interesting if transferring that to grass.

Golden Cannon merits a place on the shortlist following her third-placed finish at Plumpton earlier in the month. Last Enchantment remains unexposed over hurdles and she has to be respected on her handicap debut over obstacles.

ATR VERDICT: ROYAL CANFORD arguably put in a career best effort when finishing third over a mile at Killarney a week ago and that form suggests that she can be successful in a race of this nature. Arcland also put in his best performance to date last time out and he could prove to be the main threat to the selection, ahead of Ideal Pal and The Names Jock.

Top Tip: ROYAL CANFORD (4)

Watch out for: ARCLAND (11)

ATR VERDICT: Three Ways shaped like needing the run at Doncaster 80 days ago and the eight-year-old could take a step forward here, while Francky Du Berlais enjoyed a nice summer campaign last year and should have come on plenty for his Plumpton reappearance. A chance can be take on FOR GOOD MEASURE, who relishes a decent surface for Philip Hobbs. He endured a disappointing winter/spring campaign, but could strike in weaker company off a low mark of 125.

ATR VERDICT: ALAKAHAN displayed plenty of promise when finishing fifth on his debut at Cork a couple of weeks ago and that form was boosted when the fourth won easily at Navan on Saturday. If the son of Motivator improves for that experience then he could be hard to beat this evening. Small Town Boy has progressed with every start to date and he also merits a place on the shortlist, along with A Wave Of The Sea and Lalipour.

ATR VERDICT: SAFFRON WELLS put in a big display when second in this sphere at Cheltenham earlier this month, clearly finding the 2m trip too short, and could go one better with this stamina-sapping distance expected to prove far more suitable. Bletchley Castle easily scored between the flags last month and is respected alongside fellow recent point-to-point winners Blackwood Rover and Knockedoutloaded.
