ATR VERDICT: I CAN FLY has been set stiff assignments throughout her career, but connections' ambition almost paid off when she went down by a neck in the QEII last autumn. She makes a swift reappearance following her sixth in the Lockinge but that match-fitness could prove the difference as One Master, who was ahead of her in the Breeders' Cup Mile, has her first outing of 2019. Yulong Gold Fairy might improve past her Park Express conqueror Normandel as she meets on 3lb better terms here.

Long Handicap: Paddling 9 - 12

ATR VERDICT: THE KINGS BABY fairly bolted up at Stratford last Sunday and, with Martin McIntyre's valuable claim negating the 7lb penalty, she could take some stopping in her bid to follow up. Bocasien Desbois wasn't beaten far off this mark at Hexham two weeks ago and should give another good account, while Brave Spartacus brings winning C&D form to the table and is certainly no forlorn hope.

ATR VERDICT: Joseph O'Brien looks to have a strong hand here with DOWNDRAFT and Ming and it is his hat-trick seeking Camelot colt who appeals most following an easy victory at Dundalk on his reappearance. Lethal Power has the assistance of Frankie Dettori and fared best of those who took part in a mile handicap here earlier this month finishing third, with Sam Missile (fifth) and Insignia Of Rank (seventh) a little further back. Sheisdiesel has done well on the synthetics for Noel Meade this winter and is respected.

Long Handicap: Cairnshill 9 - 11

ATR VERDICT: Allbarnone won this race from 3lb out of the handicap last year and is respected, but he probably faces a tougher assignment this time around. Robin The Raven and Cairnshill both struck latest and have to be considered, while Stop The World is unlikely to be far away either. However, CANYON CITY's comfortable Haydock success two weeks ago was a career-best performance and a 5lb rise might not be enough to anchor him.

ATR VERDICT: SHERKALI won his maiden at Navan on his second outing at the end of March before suffering a head defeat at Gowran earlier in the month. The application of a visor and the booking of Frankie Dettori can see Dermot Weld's colt back to winning ways on his handicap debut. Excelcius scored in a Dundalk maiden at the end of October and can take a step forward for a gelding operation, while Karasi and Isotope appear best of the remainder.

ATR VERDICT: Donald McCain looks to have a couple of solid chances with Wetherby scorer Morraman and Good Tradition, while Becky The Thatcher must come into the reckoning following runner-up efforts at both Hexham and Market Rasen. However, this could be yet another winner for local trainer James Moffatt, courtesy of ALTRUISM. Each of his five NH victories have been recorded at this venue and he warmed up with a solid placed effort at Newcastle last month.

ATR VERDICT: Dark Optimist was not disgraced in a valuable event at Newbury last weekend and he arguably sets the standard in this contest, although Born To Destroy caught the eye when finishing fourth on his debut over C&D recently. That said, a chance can be taken with PARTRIDGE, who cost 150,000 euros as a yearling and his dam was Listed placed as a two-year-old. The son of Zoffany is also closely related to Dream Of Dreams, who won a Listed race over 6f at Windsor on Monday.
