ATR VERDICT: HER WAY got off the mark over this distance at Chepstow eight days ago and she should be very hard to beat once again, despite carrying a 6lb penalty. Celestial Point failed in her bid for a hat-trick at Yarmouth but it is far too soon to be writing her off. Smokey Malone return to winning ways at Nottingham recently and he completes the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: DULLA BHATTI improved significantly from his debut when winning with plenty in hand over C&D and despite having to shoulder a 7lb penalty, he looks to have the most potential in this field. General Sago had shown a consistent level of form before finding things too tough in a highly competitive handicap at York and should figure more prominently in these calmer waters. Prince Of Pearls took a notable step forward when fourth at Carlisle and may do better again now dropping in trip.

ATR VERDICT: EMJAYTWENTYTHREE caught the eye when third at Salisbury, meeting trouble in running but finishing off his race in taking style. That effort suggested this return to 7f will be in his favour and the Richard Hannon-trained colt looks capable of breaking his maiden. Run Forrest Run, a C&D winner on his penultimate start, ran a solid race in a higher grade at Goodwood and is feared, while Granary Queen went close over C&D on her latest run and should get involved in first-time cheekpieces.

Top Tip: EMJAYTWENTYTHREE (4)

ATR VERDICT: HORTZADAR has posted a number of good efforts in competitive handicaps this year and he would have gone a good deal closer in the Hunt Cup granted some luck in running. He passed the post first on his only run at this track last year (subsequently disqualified after his rider weighed in light) and looks to have good prospects of racking up his seventh career win. Chichester took the Carlisle Bell in first-time cheekpieces and should go well again under a 5lb penalty, while Jump The Gun produced a career-best effort when winning over C&D and shouldn't be out of place in this higher grade.

ATR VERDICT: It may be best to focus on a couple of Mark Johnston-trained three-year-olds in the shape of ANNANDALE and Roseabad, with slight preference for the former. The son of Australia finished behind the promising Dhushan when third at Musselburgh last time and will find this opposition less demanding. Roseabad bounced back when second at Goodwood and should make a bold bid once again, while Eagle Court drops in grade and will be suited by a strong pace.

ATR VERDICT: COTTAM LANE promised plenty early on in his juvenile campaign and despite not yet living up to expectations, his latest fourth at York (when stepping up in trip) suggested his winning turn may not be far away. He travelled strongly on that occasion and is taken to pick up his second career victory in a less competitive field. Call Me Ginger ran well when second over C&D last time and is respected, with Afandem looking next best.

ATR VERDICT: HAVANA SUNSET bounced back to form when finishing third over a mile here earlier in the month and that form gives him a big chance in a race of this nature. Zest Of Zambia has been off the track for a long time but her most recent form suggests that she could go well. Others to note are Handytalk and Air Of York.
